Wallcovering

FIRE RETARDANT

Wallcoverings are tested according to American and European non-inflammable standards.

EARLY WARNING EFFECT

The formulation to produce Koroseal Wallcoverings gives off an Early Warning Effect when it is heated to a point below fire ignition temperature. This can save lives by giving people extra time to leave a room before there is smoke or open flames.

This Early Warning Effect formulation works when as little as one square foot of the Wallcovering is heated to about 300 degrees Fahrenheit - well below the ignition point of most common room materials. At that point, the wallcovering gives off an odorless and colorless vapor that will set off the alarm on an ionization-type smoke detector.

Fabric

FIRE RETARDANT & ABRASIVE RESISTANT

Our wide range of fabrics for upholstery and drapery meet the most stringent fire retardant standards and products with a high resistance to light, air and abrasion (100 000 Cycle Martindale).

WATER REPELLENT & ANTI-STAIN

Our fabrics have received water repellent, soil and stain treatments.

COLOURFASTNESS

Our fabrics are tested for resistance to light and received an anti-mold treatment.

walltalkers

CREATE HIGH IMPACT COMMUNICATIONS WITH WALLTALKER VERSATILE WALLCOVERINGS

Walltalkers broad product line includes projection (low-gloss), adhesive-backed, colors, designer patterns, and more. With over a decade of proven track record, insist on Walltalkers as the best dry erase presentation wallcoverings.

HIGHER QUALITY

Walltalker products are made with highest quality materials available using a meticulous lamination process that ensures 100% uniform coverage of the vinyl substrate. As a result, no thin spots or “pinholes” occur on the surface where inks, stains, and solvents can penetrate and leave permanent discolouration.

The key to this process is lamination with a high-performance dry erase film. It alone creates a surface that is exceptionally resistant to strain, impervious to solvents, and measurably more durable than the inexpensive coatings used by other manufacturers.

SUPERIOR DURABILITY

Insistence on quality material and processed results in a longer-lasting, better looking product for the end user. Walltalker uses only vinyl substrate, never paper. So each dry erase presentation wallcoverings consistently maintain their unique flexibility and strength which will not crack, chip, or deteriorate even under daily use.

HOW ONE SOCIALITE PERSONALIZED HER LIGHT-FILLED BUNGALOW WITH STYLISH WALLCOVERINGS AND DESIGN CLASSICS

Arguably the ultimate socialite-entrepreneur, Jamie Chua's home is a reflection of her lifestyle glamorous and classy, yet laid-back. With a reputation for hosting parties, meeting people and jet-setting the globe to attend the finest fashion meets, the inspiration behind her home is that of Hollywood glamour, with strong cosmopolitan vibes.

Spacious and light-filled with a sweeping staircase connecting the upper floor, the house built in 2009, ticked all her boxes. What's more, it had ample wall space to accommodate her love for wallcoverings. Being a true blue urbanite, a re-decorating exercise is imminent to establish a living space that resonated closer to the heart.

Renowned for constantly recalibrating the local fashion industry, Daniel Boey’s dwelling harbours very personal infusions, accompanied by vibrantly eclectic flavours.

Interior design norms were dispelled—eschewing traditional layouts and scoffing at the tenured notion of storage options. Its interior bones resonate a quirky, eccentric and mid-century modern theme; likened to the stacking of New York City lofts atop one another.

An avid host of gatherings, home is now a conglomeration of work and play. An extension of space and an expression of his vibrant personality.
